Recorder of Deeds Office Bill Dropped

Washington D C — Provisions in the Horan bill which would transfer control of the office of Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia to the District of Columbia Commissioners will probably be dropped, it was learned last Friday.

The bill, as approved by the House Committee on the District of Columbia will retain those provisions which would authorize and direct a change in the method of recording deeds and other instruments from the copying method now in use to the photographic.

Whether the Provisions authorized and directing a transfer of the auto lens section from the Recorder's office to the Director of Vehicles and Traffic will be retained in the bill was said to be doubtful.

Also doubtful is committee action on the provisions which would give the District of Columbia auditor the right to audit receipts and disbursements of the Recorder's office. Those accounts are now audited by the Comptroller General of the United States. Recently, however, the Rev. Marshall L. Shepard, the Recorder of Deeds, gave the District Auditor permission to make an audit of them.

Dr. Shepard last Wednesday told the House District of Columbia subcommittee which has been holding hearings on the Horan bill that he was in entire accord with plans to modernize the office and substitute the photographic methods of recordation for the copying method.

Dr. Shepard also suggests an upward revision of fees for recording instruments. There has not been an increase in fees in the office since 1935, he said.

He opposes the placing of employees of the office under civil service.

If photostatic equipment is authorized and installed, he wants to keep his present staff for one year to catch up with the heavy backlog of papers to be recorded.

Industrial School Youth Sentenced

A recent escapee from the boys' Industrial School, Dewitt Curry, aged 17, was sentenced to fifteen years in the state penitentiary by Circuit Judge Fulk on charges of burglary and assault. Curry pleaded guilty to a statutory charge.

A patient in the hospital of the Industrial School, Curry escaped Tuesday June 25, and is reported to have accosted the wife of one of the employees at the farm.

When the woman screamed, Curry fled and returned to the school. He was under sentence from St. Francis county.

Because of engagements to referee bouts in various cities that Louis has, Mrs. Louis was not sure that he would meet her and Little Joe at the Chicago Airport. She said it was possible.

Little Joe will be christened in Chicago.

Rickey Says More Players To Follow Robinson

Pittsburg — Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers last Monday predicted that other colored baseball players will follow Jackie Robinson, Dodge first baseman, into the major leagues.

The signing of colored players by big league teams will come to be commonplace he said, disclosing that his scouts have been dickering with another colored player who has had an offer from another club.

"I think that the other clubs are going to have Negro players in a year or so," Rickey said.

"One of our scouts just the other day was investigating one of the colored stars. The boy confessed to him that he had already received an offer from a big league club."

Bishop Kelly Tells Church Of "Life Investments"

Material or spiritual investments in life must be dedicated to the principals and teachings of the lowly Nazarens, said Bishop E. W. Kelly at Wesley Chapel Methodist church last Sunday.

"Speaking on the subject 'Life's investments' the Bishop explained that the best investment the human race could make in this world, is the investment of service."

The silver haired prelate continued by saying, while material investments are alright especially if they are made by the glory of God, but he emphasized the fact, that where as material investments may fail, investments of service will not fail for they will stand for ever as living monuments.

Directing his remarks to the closing session of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, the Bishop challenged the group to invest in dependable service, cooperative service, and sacrificial service.
